Marine

mining

as the resources opportunity for future generations

1st International Science and Technology Conference

under the auspices of Deputy Prime Minister Minister of Economy of The Republic of Poland
Mr Waldemar Pawlak

December 7th-8th 2011

AGH

University of Science and Technology in Krakow
Poland

Conference Topics:

- Seas and oceans – the resources future,
- Geology, methods of researching the bottoms of seas and oceans, documentation and estimation of deposits' resources,
- Legal issues in marine mining industry,
- Visions of technologies for marine mining,
- Marine mining: new challenges in the area of navigation, vessels' traffic and safety procedures in the sea,
- Economic aspects of acquiring mineral resources from the depths of seas and oceans.

While facing the necessity of providing the Mankind with mineral resources, guaranteeing its sustainable development, it becomes necessary to take up common actions, from both the side of the Science and the Industry, in the scope of marine mining. The marine mining establishes a new area of research, requiring merging the knowledge and experience from the area of mining, navigation, maritime transport and sea-safety procedures. It is necessary to start up a common discussion and experience exchange between representatives of the Science and the Industry in the area of geological research, resources' estimation, as well as modern technological solutions and aspects of economics of raw-materials' exploitation from the sea and ocean depths.

The 1st International Science and Technology Conference „The marine mining as the resources opportunity for future generations” is the first step towards executing these objectives. It will be an extraordinary occasion to start actions of educational, research and popularization character, preparing the future generations to take advantages of the resources of seas and oceans.
